Subject: waste water from oil wells on price canyon

Dear Mr. Albright,

Please do allow the company Freeport McMoRan an exemption from the safe water act so they can dump their waste water (from extracting oil) back into the underground aquifers. Just the thought of asking for an exemption from our right for safe water sounds appalling! Many of us in Arroyo Grande depend on our well water. Our properties would be useless without clean water. The oil they extract is considered tar oil, and the waste water they put back in to the ground is toxic and could contaminate surrounding aquifers. They say the aquifers aren't connected, but how could they possibly know that? Thank You for doing the right thing!

sincerely, Piper Hunter
